THESE—AND 87% OF HIS PREDICTIONS HAVE COME TRUE.

During the time since Criswell's first book Criswell Predicts To The Year 2000! was published, his astounding record of accuracy has gained him an audience numbering in the millions.

Appearances on Johnny Carson's Tonight Show; on The Mike Douglas and Merv Griffin Shows — and many others — have made his name the center of much discussion — and, at times, controversy.

His first book was a "Journal of The Future" covering the next thirty years until the date Criswell Predicts the world as we know it will end — August 18, 1999!

This book is more immediate. In these pages Criswell predicts the events that will befall America and the world during the decade of the 1970's. He also answers the 101-questions most often asked him about the next ten years. These predictions will affect us all, Criswell says — and if his record of 87% accuracy continues, then every person in the world has a personal stake in what Criswell predicts in this volume!

I PREDICT that many radio and television stations will not have their licenses renewed by the FCC due to their anti-religious attitudes and their ultra liberal commentators! Several newscasters make no secret of their atheism and this stirs the Bible Belt and the South the wrong way! Many of the sponsors want straight news, not comment, in the newscasts! Several very big TV and radio stations will be in deep trouble! . . . I predict that a famed Senator will face the charge of murder within the next sixty days! His hour of trial and tribulation is drawing very near! . . . I predict a series of seven deaths from drug overdoses will shock the world of sports, which will result in a federal investigation! This long slumbering charge of drug addicts in athletics will be brought out in the bright sunlight for all to see! Some of our biggest sport figures will experience public shame! Remember this prediction! . . . I predict the next musical craze will be the harp thru the recordings of Lloyd Lindroth (The Harpists Bazaar) together with his concert appearances. Not since Casper Reardon (The Swing Harpist) has the public accepted the harp in popularity! A one hour TV spectacular will delight you with Lloyd Lindroth! . . . I predict the oldest scourge of mankind, leprosy, will again break into the headlines with a rampaging epidemic in Northern Africa! You will soon read of the dead and the doomed!

THINGS TO COME

I predict that the William H. Shubert musical version of "Casey At The Bat" titled "Casey" will ride to success on the wave of the present nostalgia! It will compare favorably to "Around The World In Eighty Days," truly a family attraction! You will doubly enjoy "Casey" the freshest and brightest musical of the coming season! . . . I predict that the Irene Ryan Foundation will aid many youthful actors and actresses in their career in movies, television and the stage. Irene Ryan, the granny in "Beverly Hill Billies," who died recently, leaves her entire fortune to create a school for the theatrical younger generation! Farewell, Irene Ryan, the world will miss you deeply! . . . I predict that Michael Stack, the founder of "The Beautiful People" a fellowship of the young in heart, will ride the top 40 tunes with his "Delta Dawn" on the Blue Dolphin label out of Hollywood! . . . I predict that Washington Society will be shocked when a socialite marries a black idol! . . . I predict that the Sunday Blue Laws will soon be back with us! The Churches and the Unions are pushing this latest campaign! Sunday should be observed from Saturday midnight to Sunday midnight, and according to some, it will be! My prediction is a modified one, but still we will know we are observing the Sunday Blue Laws! . . . I predict that air fare prices will be slashed and slashed deeply! Some of

I predict that Wall Street will react very sharply to the reports from South America on the present growing dangers! Many financial writers and brokers violently disagree with me on this prediction, but I never apologize for a prediction as they are not returnable nor refundable! . . . I predict that the coming box office attractions of 1974 will be the independent productions, not controlled by any studio or distributing organization! You can expect many heads to roll by September first! The upheaval will unroot many very famous names who will be out of employment! . . . I predict continuing alarming landslides along the Pacific Coastal areas, despite the prevention taken by supporting girders and landfills! The small quakes and the violent rains of the past year will take their destructive toll! . . . I predict that the cosmetic commercials on television

The loss of weight was medically watched and no ill effects were in evidence. It is the chocolate cake you don't eat that doesn't make you fat!

IF you haven't heard everything — this will fill the gap. An eastern resident has offered to play "Russian Roulette" for Harolds Club, Reno . . . an altruistic gesture to provide them with a change in their entertainment fare . . . "I will put a six-shooter to my head with one bullet in it and I'll pull the trigger for ten thousand dollars . . . After I perform my stunt you could make a poster of me holding the gun live and sell them at two dollars and you are bound to sell at least ten thousand dollars worth." (He's already figured a way the club could get its investment back!) . . . After due deliberation, the management of Harolds reported that Russian Roulette is not legally licensed in Nevada. Besides . . . what would the trigger-chappy do for an encore?

That's a natural lead-in to a favorite gaming story that George Kirby re-hashed over porkchops and eggs at the Riviera the other yawning. Revived from the old Club Bingo days (pre-Sahara) in the early 50's . . . Kirby spoke of the gamer who lost all of his money and walked out to the deserted pool area, where he took out a gun and started to raise it to his head. Suddenly a voice whispered . . . "Put the gun down . . . walk back three paces . . . look on the ground." The loser did as he was told and spotted a hundred dollar bill. The voice: "Go back to the casino and put it all on the roulette wheel — number 24." The loser followed directions and the number hit. The whisper continued to lead him into a winning streak, and the money continued to ride into a fortune. When the chips were stacked so high, he could barely see over them, he was told to put all of it on 20. The entire casino was motionless as all eyes watched the spinning wheel and the ball bounce into 20 . . . then flip out of it . . . to land on 17. All action was frozen and the loser-turned-winner-turned-loser just stared at the fortune crumbling before him. Then, once again, the voice whispered to the loser . . . "Go back . . . and get the gun!"

Rogosin identifies his plan as 20 separate, but related, Specials. For the TV viewers who may be limited to watching only one hour at a stretch, every facet will be geared into that hour, including name performers, on-camera presentations, Lewis moving thru the audience, dramatization of the Muscular Dystrophy aspect, et al. We made earlier mention of turn-away volunteers here in years past . . . Mae West, the incomparable, who originated the "sex symbol" image, the "shimmy dance" (Gilda Gray claimed it after Mae had moved on to her famous hip swinging-wiggles) — gave The Masquers (jammed to its rafters) a taste of what she's like, circa 1973. The celebrated actor's club honored Mae with "May Day"! As handsome a coterie of stage door Johnnies as ever graced an alley (oohs, a stage) showered her with diamonds (of wit) as she presented her first time one-woman show.

Fantastic were Mae's sexy interpretations with her own brand of lyrics for "Frankie and Johnny"; a special number played to a "tall dark and handsome" was wow —! Mae singing to her new MGM album "Balls of Fire" with such perfection, she was the star, ingenue, and the whole chorus with a fifty piece band! Elvis Presley in top form was never better than her sensational shimmy shaking dance — without moving her feet an inch. This new number has to top her FABULOUS Westisms — of which she is an international legend. Enjoying it as much as her audience, made it a memorable once-in-a-life-time night.

Her diamonds glistening, her curvy figure revealing in white satin and furs, then a switch to a mod pants suit were eye-popping — which all hypoed her leading men — including George Raft, Lloyd Nolan, Jim Backus, Hal J. Kanter, etc. to some veddy sensual observations. Clearly hypnotized was television's Mike Landon, handsome in black tie and tux who said, "As you know, we didn't have any sex at The Ponderosa for fourteen years. Tonight wow!"

Mae posed graciously for pictures with girls and women half her years — not her age, for she clearly demonstrates she has more vitality and joie-de-vivre than the average teenager. Her face is smoother and younger than the lot! Her secret: SEX. Much credit is due to Harlequin Joe Pasternak and Andy Albin and Bill Hardwick for getting Mae's "Show of Shows."

"Grease" the brand new musical comedy on Broadway, comes to Shuberts Century City opening June 12th. This is a goodie of nostalgia of the 50's before the violent sixties and the hippies, flower children and revolutionaries took over. 'Tis to be a black tie glamorous opening.

Joseph P. Busch, recognized as one of this country's most aggressive district attorneys, will be "Man of the Year" at a gala sponsored by the District Attorney's Investigators Association at the Hilton. This for his courageous and diligent law enforcement.

Exquisite in his portrait of H. M. Queen Anne Marie of Greece, and so many others. His flower and rustic scenes are of delicate loveliness. "Sports Challenge" joins the CBS television network starting Sunday, May 20. The new series features superstar athletes in team competition, testing sports knowledge and quick recall based on film clips of famous sporting events.

Produced by Gerry Gross Productions, "Sports Challenge," prior to its CBS network debut, has been syndicated in 147 markets for three years. Dan Merrin, formerly of the Las Vegas Flamingo Hotel, is the talent coordinator.

The show features such fabled athletes as Joe Louis, Joe DiMaggio, Joe Namath, Ted Williams, Willie Shoemaker, Dizzy Dean, Jerry West, Mickey Mantle, Sid Luckman, Sugar Ray Robinson, Bobby Hull, Johnny Unitas and other sports greats on 3-man teams in intersport competition battling for $1500 worth of athletic equipment for deserving youth groups. Thus far, $102,000 worth of needed sports supplies have been distributed to kids throughout the country.

Lights of Las Vegas

By PHIL SOLOMON

Tony Bennett, the singer that left his heart in San Francisco will return to Las Vegas Hilton for a two week engagement beginning May 21.

Every Italian singer in this country has been fighting for the honor of taking over Frank Sinatra's crown and England decided it should be Bennett. He is the biggest thing to hit England in years. A concert booked for Festival Hall took only 35 minutes to sell out after the announcement which proves his popularity.

Bennett was born Antonio Dominic Benedetto and when his career started to jell it was Bob Hope who urged the change to Tony Bennett. The famed comedian is an expert at changing names.

Long before thinking of retirement it was Sinatra who picked Bennett as his successor paying a glowing tribute.

Sinatra said, "For my money, Tony Bennett is the best singer in the business. The best exponent of a song. He excites me when I watch him. He's a singer who gets across what the composer had in mind and probably a little more."

"There's a feeling in back of it. I've said it before and I'll say it again. Tony Bennett is the best singer in the world today."

This is the sort of praise that could easily have been written about Sinatra himself and has been said a thousand times or more.

Bennett excels in ballads and handles it similar to the late Nat (King) Cole. Sinatra and Bennett are rated superb when it comes to phrasing a song.

The city and Mayor of San Francisco wanted to present Bennett with an antiquated cable car for what he has done with the song "I Left My Heart in San Francisco."

"I asked the mayor what time the presentation was set for and he told me that it was in the morning. I told him that I was sorry but I never get up that early in the morning."

He still hasn't received the cable car and the mayor is still shaking his head.

To Bennett, the performance is everything in his life. He quotes his long time friend Jimmy Durante, approaching the age of 80, who said after a rehearsal of a new song:

"I don't think I've got that thing right and I'm going to work on it all night until I do."

Bennett is a perfectionist and everybody in the trade knows it.

An apology is due to Al Guzman, flackman at the Sands. He did know the Thelma Ritter answer two weeks ago, and he was the only one.

Now for last week's answer. Vernon Briggs in the old movie version of Dr. Kildare was portrayed by Red Skelton.

This week is a toughie. In the days of the silent movies, the studios would send out original music scores to be played with the movie. They were suggested scores. The local movie house could either use or reject them. In 1914 the big one was "The Birth Of A Nation." The suggested theme music was rejected but later wound up as one of the most popular radio themes some 20 years later. Name the theme and the radio show. Sorry about this one, you guys at double Circus.

Anything appearing at the Casbar Theatre. Never a dull minute there, no matter who's appearing.

The Dae Han Sisters at the Plaza Lounge at the Union Plaza were stronger than the Kim Sisters at this early stage of their career. God knows how big they will be. I found them the most exciting new group I have seen this year. Joy Hamann was right.

Powerful is the word for these gals from Korea.

All of us in the media shocked and sorrowed at the passing of Jack E. Leonard. He was a friend and one of a kind. The first time I saw Fat Jack was in 1948 at the Capitol Theatre in Washington, D.C. I laughed until I cried. The audience did not for his style was too new ... too revolutionary. His style is still being stolen by every new and would be comic. And why not? Jack E. fitted. The E. in his name was put there by Jack himself so as not to be confused with Jack Leonard the singer with the old Tommy Dorsey band.

And if this blow was not enough we were shocked to read about the bout Betty Grable is having with the big "C." I have talked with several of her close friends this past week and they all said this all-time pin up favorite had never been sick a day in her life. But the word trouser applies to Betty as to no one else. She'll make it. Big Duke Wayne did and besides Betty is much prettier and one of the nicest ladies I have ever met.

the lean days of his career? Just look at his big TV hit Sanford & Son and just about everyone, with few exceptions, has a bit to do. I mean all the friends that helped him in the rough days when black comedians were limited as to where they could perform.

Louetta Farrar, the new "Maria" in the UP's production of "Sound Of Music," has the most beautiful face I have seen in years. In time she should be Queen of the musical theatre. I fell in love (again).

Best buddy Jimmy Campbell now deejaying it on KLAV from 12M to 6AM with permanent host Max Lindberg. Who should know the jazz wars better than Jayce. He was there and knows all the people who play my favorite kind of music.

To look at Mel Young, the maitre d' of the Hippodrome Theatre in double Circus, you would never know that just a few years ago he suffered a stroke and was told he would never work again . . . a true picture of courage and determination. And still with that great outlook on life.

You ever get the idea that the various charity affairs with all the strip stars is bleeding us dry? I do. And I know that some of the stars are pushed into it. I know that many diseases need research and money. But does the money have to come from LV all the time?

'Bye now!

MIGHTY MIXTURE

By GARY STEVENS

DATELINE: New York:

THIS IS NEW YORK: The energetic young lady who bows the vertical oversized viol at 54th St. and 5th Ave. with the sign "Cellist Needs Funds" — "Support the Arts." . . . A searching man with pack, who checks all refuse cans for a saleable item. Upon interrogation the itinerant treasure seeker says: "Once I found a ring." . . . That paper on the window of the Cortina Language Academy on 52nd St. which says "Don't rap at the cat." The black and white feline cavorts and sleeps in full gaze of the passerby and they tap, tap on the glass. The management should know, in the parlance of the day, "rap" means talk, so in 1973 jargon what they're asking is — "Don't talk to Cortina" (that's her name) . . . Manhattan's best open air garage — the 150 feet each side of '21, where the limo chauffeurs never see, hear or speak about no standing, no parking . . . Those choice benches outside Central Park on 59th west of the Avenue of the Americas, where the winos convene to stare or sleep the deep slumber of the grape.

FROM K 5-7: One must get the meaning of the title straight immediately. At the Morosco Theatre, "The Changing Room" is not about a room that changes before your very eyes. It is a locker room where members of an English rugby team go from street clothes to uniforms and later take off their work suits and put on their regular grab. There is little or no plot. Players covering assorted intellects talk. The action is on the field that the audiences never see. The nudity, all male, doesn't have any great shock value. Perhaps Josh Logan conditioned all of us when he went hog wild with bare chests in "South Pacific," "Mr. Roberts" and "Picnic." The display of the rest of the anatomy is merely, by today's stage standards, a matter of course. Pubic went public with "Hair" and "Oh, Calcutta." If there are accolades for acting in this play by David Storey perhaps John Lithgow, as the to-be-pitied mental case, badly mauled in-the-game character and Tom Atkins, as the wise cracking, fun loving team clown, should accept them.

TURNTABLE SPINNINGS: The original cast album of "A Little Night Music" is a strong embellishment to what takes place on the stage. In seeing the grand musical you are too aware that Stephen Sondheim hasn't written any sure fire hit songs. You miss the nuances, the originality, the flourishing delicacies that are there. The recordings give you a chance to appreciate and analyze. Helpful, indeed, is the printed script that is included. Without the libretto and the lyrics a lot would be missed. Columbia is the lucky label. Technically, it is a super job. D. Jamin-Bartlett singing "The Miller's Son" is just as effective as she is there in one at the Shubert. And Glynis Johns doing "Send In The Clowns" is much better than one would expect from a waxing. Laurence Guittard, who plays the secondary male part, records best of all. His vibrant baritone steals the album from the standpoint of projection and clarity. Then there's admirable Hermione Gingold talk-singing. It is a play with music. It is operetta. It is a warrant to see the show. Or for those who have caught this class kind of theatre, it is an in depth reprise. You have only a minute

Bobbie Gentry, the best advertisement Levis ever had, is a jewel of an entertainer and the jeans she wears for the opening numbers in her new act are adorned with a wealth of Tiffany's. John Byner, her special guest star, is another gem, and his appearances throughout the show sparkle plenty . . . The southern belle with the gorgeous face and gee-whiz figure is a stunner in numerous musical roles in her revue, beginning with a Mississippi medley including La Gentry's "Ode To Billy Joe" trademark. Her distinctive, husky-voiced singing, limber dancing and a polished turn at the piano definitely place Bobbie in the all-around performer category, a fact saluted by the unanimous standing ovation she received from first nighters . . . Standout segments in the production are her high camp Andrews Sisters medley and George M. Cohan song & dance medley (replete with flags and uniforms) with her dancers . . . She is adorable doing an impression of Elvis, even to bestowing a scarf on a ringsider, and a sizzler singing her own "Fancy." . . . Byner, introduced in his funny stand-up comedy spot, is featured for fine effect in some of the super Gentry specials such as her definitive recapitulation of the old "Hit Parade" TV show, with Byner especially brilliant impersonating Frankie Laine, and another howler on disk jockeys . . . The '73 edition of "Casino de Paris" bears the distinct signature of Frederic Apcar, who conceived, produced and directed the New Year enfante . . . The incorporation of horses and Hondas borders on upstaging the physical splendor of the boy and girl dancers and Les Mannequins. The noble steeds, manes flying, gallop furiously on a moving floor that restricts each to his own unfettered cubicle of activity. The motorcycles are revved onstage by the shapely torsos of the girl dancers . . . Toplining in the glamorous adventure is titian-tressed Kitty Kover. A dynamic tunesmith, Miss double K. upstages all activity by her mere presence and creates a color transparency of every song picture she projects. Kitty Kover is a true star . . . The Flying Fercos are almost illusory as they execute breathtaking trapeze art from a stationary, grounded gym swing . . . A number of the Fercos troupe comprise the Four Tonys, two boys and two

It's hi-ho for "Hee Haw" star Roy Clark's bow in the Frontier's Music Hall where the TV and award winning recording whiz is attracting a room full of fans every show as easily as he plays that guitar. The pixie-faced favorite does a lot of other things too; he plinks a mean banjo, bows a wild fiddle, sings delightfully as the millions who listen to his hit disks well know, and he is so engagingly country-style funny he could do a successful stand-up comedy routine without playing or singing a single note . . . All togged up in a varicolored jacket Liberace might admire, Clark opens the show himself with a driving "Alabama Jubilee" and amus-

When Peter Anthony takes command of a stage, he addresses the audience as though he were speaking to each one individually. He's a peripatetic comedian, never allowing a "dullie" to intrude upon his ever-upkey humorisms. The audience digs the fondly foolish little fills he tosses in like the variations of ethnic strolls. Never offensive, Peter incorporates pub-hoppers into his performance, creating the people-to-people harmony so highly appreciated by viewing auditors. He is devastating as he storms about the stage, destroying every vestige of a frown, as his humor molds a grinning congregation. A trumpet pro, Peter tickles the fancy as he blows his mouthpiece, without the horn. He also does a serious take off on trumpet players, scoring strong-and tighten the seams . . . Starring in the Kuller-Ficks production is Jean-Paul Vignon, who is so elegantly talented he is deserving of special literary coinage — savoir schmaltz! Poignant, dramatic songs are accented by the graceful hand movements of a continental. "Inch'Allah" and "Love Story" sung in French are Vignon unforgettable . . . Every company has to have a scene stealer and to Neil J. Schwartz will ever go this title. He projects an over-the-footlights compatibility even when he just stands still. He's the chubby kid with the Fred Astaire feet and karate acrobatics — but should be turned on sooner — and longer . . . Although obviously a seasoned pro, Nancy Bond's spontaneity in characterization is captivating and arresting . . . Skip Cunningham is a dancing experience that snubs choreography in its insipid pallor and puts the foot muscle back on the leg muscle, letting those taps tell it like it was, is, and will always be. opening night audience audibly expressed enjoyment every moment . . . Although Cosby claims he's had no time to write new material due to being busy appearing in exciting Eugene, Oregon it sounded all new to me. If he winged it it took off like a rocket, a blast from start to finish . . . Bill opens the evening with a funny bit involving an audience draftee who — under the comedy star's direction — does a piano impression of Roger Williams. But the bulk of Cosby's act follows Lola's turn, and it is a dazzling comedy tour de force. He discusses gambling and the attitude of gamblers, hilariously sustaining the single subject to the end of his act without one dull moment. Touching on every facet of games of chance, the prayerful reaction of some players, interchanges between husbands and wives, his own experience at losing heavily, and observations on "21" and Keno, Bill is brilliant, with imagery that keeps the crowd in stitches. If any proof were needed that Cosby is one of the truly creative comedy greats this is it . . . As for Miss Lola Falana, eschewing the "what Lola wants Lola gets" line, it must be noted the torrid star more than gets it on. Moving more than somewhat while wearing a revealing costume made, she says, from a fringed shawl — rather a small shawl — the pretty, shapely star, a headliner in her own right, packs enough electricity to light the room. Her "The Magic Moment," stunning "I Who Am Nothing" showcasing both her vocal range and thespic abilities, and swinging "You've Got A Friend," an athletic workout, are outstanding. When she sheds her shoes Lola does a dance sexier than any topless tummy-tosser. Wow Miss Falana's musical director is mononamed Alexander. . . . The magnificent Joe Guercio orchestral overture is conducted by Jimmy Mulidore.

scene, the audience reaction is decidedly potent. With his unbelievable collection of electronic gizmos, Harry creates multiple voice harmony and total orchestra sounds. He is one of the marvels of the music business, lending the most inventive approach ever conceived for a one man act. Icing on the cake is the direct phone line available for patrons to cue in their requests and Harry is prepared for all of them . . . What makes the Eterna Sonic so incredibly accurate? It's the tuning fork watch with a balanced tuning fork. The "balancing" of the tuning fork cancels out the adverse effect of gravity, and eliminates what watchmakers call position error.

As a result, Eterna Sonic is the only tuning fork watch guaranteed to within 1 second a day.

The Eterna Sonic — protected against damage from both shock and water.

drama of her voice. Bordering on a choric sound, Sarah's notes soar unrestrained, like a kitten scampering up a moonbeam . . . then counter in descent with the instinctive certainty of a leopard leaping on its prey. As she sings, Sarah Vaughan's kinetics are totally vocal. She doesn't employ a gimmick, for there are no flaws to mask. The room was absolutely silent as hungry ears were sated by Sassy's "There Will Never Be Another You," "Tenderly," "Close To You," "I Cried For You," "The Lamp Is Low," "Time

After Time." The revered hush was broken at times by punctuations of brief, warm sanction. As the boys in the band would say — she's just too much chick. Sitting in with the Orchestra is Sassy's trio — Carl Schroeder on piano, Ron McCord on bass and Jimmy Kow on drums — and music is their art, especially the bluesy mood they set for the boss lady's romp thru scat-bop . . . Pat Henry saunters on-stage, the picture of a well-groomed man-about-town. Once he sets the comedy pattern, forget the grooming and let the laughs roll out. Even though I covered the show four days after it opened, the musicians who sat behind Pat the previous nights were howling and applauding, along with the audience, the first time I had witnessed an incident of this sort in 20 years. It credits Pat with the spontaneity that keeps his humor evergreen . . . and he doesn't shy from any topic in his devastating attacks, whether it be the Mafia or the man who signs his checks. But, Pat, taking up a collection in the Catholic section of your showroom audience? . . . Joe Berlingeri & his Orchestra create the beautiful music. (Cortez) could well be tabbed "Better Than Ever Before." Michel Gyarmathy works wonders in production and direction. It is obvious that a great deal of care, along with great amounts of money, have been expended and nothing is wasted. The acts, the settings, costumes, music and extra touches are all evident from the breathtaking "Ca C'est Paris" opening to the equally eye-popping finale . . . Audrey Arno is a small, but choice, bundle of international joie de vivre, singing and dancing away in a variety of numbers. She frequently changes her act for benefit of return fans. Audrey is especially captivating singing a French medley and moving "Til The Parade Passes By," terping an Eiffel Tower tour with the revue's dancers (choreo conceived by Jerry Jackson) and affectionately song saluting the beloved Maurice Chevalier . . . (Miss Arno out of show, on vacation, May 7-22) . . . Gus Augspurg always breaks up the place with His Girl Friends, one a 26-year-old Rhesus Monkey, the other a Guinea baboon of 24 years. The Augspurg chatter and the monkeyshines make up one of the perfect acts in showbiz . . . According to one's viewpoint, Berri Lee is either a magician with a good comedy act or a comedian who spoofs magic, with both interpretations fulfilled in good humor . . . The Ultra Three bring one of the most humorous acts to springboard the "Folies" to a high pitch of amusement. If you don't quite believe what you see, just trust your eyes. They tell it like it is and so do the roars . . . Vassili Sulich contributes a great deal to the overall splendid air of productions with his special balletic stances and adagios, two of the finer duos being with lithe, lovely Janelle Urbina . . . The high soprano of Carolyn Everett is a standout, while Felicia Atkins and Joyce Grayson stand out in their own way, figure-wise . . . No group excels like the Rudas Acro Dancers, exhibiting precision and adept ability in the "Can

Can" and in a later scene amidst the lavish "Casanova" sequence . . . The stately and curvaceous Les Mannequins move well within the scenes surrounded by the fleet Tropicana Dancers, their patterns directed by Larry Maldonado, with Nick Navarro assisting . . . A fine blend of voices occurs throughout production numbers from the Tony Costa Chanteurs, and in all the music, the arrangements by Billy May and original scores by Henri Bettis of Paris and May, lyrics by Bobby Troup, have the special conductorial talent of George Hernandez. The orksters in the pit make good sounds for the entire cast . . .

UNION PLAZA

Plaza . . . an enchanting, sensitive proclamation of love in musical captivity. Maynard Sloate's production of "The Sound Of Music" is one of the most palatable stage offerings seen in the last three decades of theatre. Each of the cast fits his role perfectly. . . . Louetta Farrar is portraying sweet light-hearted "Maria" whose warmth lifts her from total commitment to a cloistered life and places her in the arms of a Baron and his motherless brood . . . John Myhers, Richard Rodgers' original choice for the role of "von Trapp," is perfect as the reserved nobleman whose constraint is dissolved by love . . . The role of "Mother Abbess" could well have been created just for Virginia Jaeger . . . Norman Fontaine is an engaging clown . . . Ruth Johnson is the stunner who loses the Baron to "Maria's" overpowering presence . . . The voices of the ensemble are totally exquisite, commanding, penetrating. There is no room for improvement here. If one must reach for an outstanding vocal performance, single out the brilliant beauty of Maria's "Sound Of Music." And by all means laud loudly the unbelievable blending of "Mother Abbess" (Jaeger) and the Sisters (Jeanne Costa, Phyllis Deyo and Beth Peters) as they anoint the heart with an ethereal chorale . . . Nancy Reichert & Bill Katt are endearingly young in their brush with romance . . . Rick & Leslie Sullivant, Jimmy Cisco, Lisa Williford, Melissa & Twila McClendon (the little darling) are adorable progeny . . . Small roles are importantly portrayed by Ted Huffman, Belle Elilig and Kirk Norman . . . Multi-talented John Myhers created and directed this condensed version, potently scored by the Anthony Costa Orchestra. Musical staging by Larry Maldonado. Original music and lyrics by Richard Rodgers & Oscar Hammerstein. (Cortez) search to recognize the enormous talent of Stephen Sondheim.

BURKE'S LAW: This paragraph is not about a slick, but hardly missed television show that starred Gene Barry. It is about Messers Burke, all lawyers; some related, some unrelated. At 1 Wall Street there's a practicing attorney named William Burke. In the same building another firm of barristers is Burke and Burke (no kin to the first named) and here four Burkes are two plus over the title: Coleman Burke Sr., Coleman Burke Jr., Gilman Burke and James Burke. But there's another package of legal eagles at 1472 Broadway and the billing extends to Burke, Burke and Burke. Here five goes into three or is the grammar, five go into three. Michael Burke, the Patrick Burkes, Senior and Junior; Richard Burke and Thomas Burke are the attorneys at law. It would be nice to know that all these gents in the same profession, all with the same surname, have something in common. Maybe they all watch reruns of "Perry Mason."

Once upon a time, THERE WAS A LITTLE BOY NAMED BOBBY.

He liked to run and jump and flex his muscles. He especially liked to go swimming. When he wiggled his toes in the water, he wore a bright red woolen bathing suit considered "the cat's pajamas" way back then in the 1920's. And he wore his cap at an "Oh, you kid" angle on his head. His mother and father dubbed him "Sonny Boy." Bobby was very healthy too, not counting measles and mumps... and poison ivy. Today he's a strong middle-aged man called Bob (even Robert). ...Needless to say, Bobby did not suffer from muscular dystrophy — the tragic muscle-wasting disease that ruthlessly cripples youngsters (mostly little boys). If Bobby had been attacked by dystrophy during his growing-up years, he wouldn't be alive today...Modern scientific research is working overtime to find a cure, to give dystrophic children a tomorrow. Won't you please support this urgent effort. Please contribute generously to
