Abstract:	Oral history interview with Mike A. Foster conducted by Heather Christopherson on March 20, 2002 for the Public School Principalsip Oral History Project. In this interview, Foster reflects upon his 25-year career as a teacher and administrator with Arizona's Douglas Unified School District. He discusses the process by which he became an administrator, and describes training and experiences that he feels were most useful for his career. He describes his approach to education, his regular responsibilities, and challenges that he faced as a principal. He also provides his opinion on student ethics and discipline, school overcrowding, teacher evaluations, and dismissals.
